

Naval Station Norfolk
 Shameena Elston, Coordinator of Military Programs
 Angela Perkins, Military Program Advisor

Building CEP-87, Room 202
 Telephone: 757-489-8516
 Fax: 757-440-4040

www.nsu.edu/vbhec/militaryprograms

“Educating our Military in the 21st Century”

Bachelor of Science Interdisciplinary Studies

120 Credit-Program

Accreditation: Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of colleges and Schools

Norfolk State University offers a Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Studies (INT studies) degree. The degree can prepare students for advancement or promotion. Students may also seek careers/jobs in Federal, State and City Governments, Corporate America or pursue graduate studies education. Courses are taught in classroom or web-enhanced formats. INT studies prepare students to engage in critical analysis and to interact in the global marketplace.

Concentration Areas

General Education Core	40
INT Studies Discipline Core	15
INT Studies Concentration I	15
Concentration II (Electives)	15
Concentration III (Electives)	15
General Electives	17
Technology Supplement	3
Total	120

Successful completion of ENG 299 Writing Exit Exam is required before graduating

Who Should Apply:

Military Applicants who possess work skills and training in all military ratings and job functions.

Have your SMART/AART transcripts evaluated and determine the value of your military training, A & C schools, or specialized training.

DOD personnel and civilian applicants seeking a first degree for job advancement or promotion. If you work for the Federal, State, or City governments, INT Studies may help you obtain your educational goals and objectives.

Military credits awarded for job skills, training (A & C schools), NECs or specialized schools

Up to 90 SMART, CLEP/DANTES and College Credits may be accepted

Degree Concentration Areas based on SMART transcript evaluation

Non-Matriculation Admission - Prospective students may apply for admission to program as a non-degree student and register for up to 15 credits (5 courses). A Non-Degree application should be submitted with a $35.00 non-refundable application fee along with undergraduate transcripts.

Open to all active duty military, retired military, active duty reservists, military family members, DOD civilians and other civilians