

“Certified Online Instructor”

The professional development you want

– The recognition you deserve –

The opportunity to become a Certified Online Instructor (COI) is available by completing these requirements:

1. Attend all sessions of the Study and Share Group (once-a-month sessions with fellow NSU online faculty)
2. Facilitate or guide discussion related to one of the topics in the manual/document that the will be used for the Group
3. Submit a brief proposal detailing your goals/objectives and anticipated outcomes as a result of becoming a certified online instructor (COI).

After these are done, your name may be submitted to LERN (Learning Resources Network), the provider of online certification.

Professional growth with valued-added skills

* Study and Share Group - A faculty participant group for development of skills and best practices for online instruction. Look for schedule of monthly sessions to be announced.

The Office of eLearning

A Title III Activity