Undergraduate Scholar Program (Stokes)

If you're looking for career experience in a dynamic environment, here's your opportunity. The CIA Undergraduate Scholar Program (Stokes) offers you an unmatched chance to contribute to our mission before you graduate. You will complete work sessions during each summer break, increasing your knowledge and job responsibilities while applying your academic skills to assisting our intelligence professionals.

You'll also get great benefits: an annual salary; health insurance, life insurance and retirement; plus up to $18,000 a year for tuition, mandatory fees, books and supplies. If you're selected into the program, you will attend an orientation session in August and report for your first tour in May of the following year. We will pay the cost of transportation between your school and the Washington, DC area each summer, and give you a housing allowance.

Because your acceptance into the Undergraduate Scholar Program is our investment in you, accepting an offer means making a career choice. You must agree to continue your employment with us after college graduation for a period equal to 1.5 times the length of your college sponsorship.

To qualify, you must be a high school senior at least 18 years old planning to enroll in a 4- or 5-year college program, and score a minimum of 1000 on your SATs (math and verbal) or 21 on the ACT. Alternatively, you may be a college sophomore enrolled in a 4- or 5-year college program with a minimum cumulative 3.0 GPA on a 4.0 scale. Applicants must also:

- Be US citizens
- Demonstrate financial need; household income cannot exceed $70,000 for a family of up to four, or $80,000 for a family of five or more
- Be able to successfully complete thorough security and medical examinations
- Be able to work in the Washington, DC area

The application period is August 1 through October 15.
