

The INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR INTELLIGENCE EDUCATION

Third Annual Conference: "Professionalizing Intelligence "

June 11 & 12, 2007

8283 Greensboro Drive, McLean, Virginia

The International Association for Intelligence Education (IAFIE) is a professional organization that spans the diverse disciplines of intelligence analysis and provides a catalyst and resources for their development. At its Third Annual Conference, IAFIE, in association with Booz Allen Hamilton, explores the concept of professionalizing intelligence and will engage educators and analysts alike in determining the benefits of and considerations critical to this transformation.

Agenda & Speakers

Monday, June 11th

7:00 - 8:00	Registration and Continental Breakfast
8:00 - 8:15	Welcome Address: Mark Lowenthal/Robert Heibel
8:15 - 8:30	Introduction to IAFIE: Thomas Shreeve, IAFIE Chairman
8:30 - 9:15	Key Note Speaker: Dave Cohen, Deputy Commissioner of Police for Intelligence, NYPD – “Commonalities in Intelligence”
9:15 - 9:30	Break
9:30 - 10:45	Panel Discussion: Commonalities across national security, law enforcement and competitive intelligence David Moore, National Security; Tom Carr, Law Enforcement; Suzanne Nora Johnson, Goldman Sachs, Competitive Intelligence
10:45 - 12:00	Panel: International perspectives on professionalizing intelligence Mark Evans, Ireland [Invited]; Jan Garton, Great Britain [Invited]; Don McDowell, Australia; Niki Ekman, Sweden
12:00 - 1:00	Lunch and Informal Networking
1:00 - 2:00	Presenter: Ron Sanders, IC Chief Human Capital Officer or Jane Homeyer, Director of Competencies and Standards): “Laying the groundwork for professionalization through career management”
2:00 - 2:15	Break
2:15 - 3:30	Panel Discussion: Changes associated with professionalizing intelligence: benefits, drawbacks, and implications for the education of future intelligence professionals Paul Johnson, Former Director of the Center for the Study of Intelligence; Rob Johnston, Anthropologist at the Center for the Study of Intelligence; Stephen Marrin, Assistant Professor, Mercyhurst College
3:30 - 3:45	Break
4:45 - 5:00	Closing Remarks: Mark Lowenthal/Robert Heibel
5:00 - 6:00	IAFIE Business Meeting
5:30 - 7:30	Reception

Tuesday, June 12th

7:30 - 8:00	Continental Breakfast
8:00 - 8:30	Welcome & Summary of Day One: Mark Lowenthal/Tom Shreeve
8:30 - 9:30	Keynote Speaker: Lenora Peters Gant, National Director of the Centers for Academic Excellence – “Vision for engaging academia in developing intelligence professionals”
9:30 - 9:45	Break

9:45 -11:00

Breakout Sessions:

Session 1: What are the educational requirements for professionalization, both as barriers to entry and for continuing education and professional development?

Facilitator: Greg Moore, Notre Dame College

Session 2: Intelligence studies and its affect on the profession. Facilitator: Robert Heibel

Session 3: What role does career management play in providing the framework for education and training? Facilitator: Carmen Medina, Director of CSI

Session 4: Graduate Student Panel Facilitator: Randy Pherson

11:00 -11:15

Break

11:15 -12:00

Presentation of Highlights from the Breakout Sessions: Breakout session facilitators report back to the general meeting on session findings

12:00 - 1:00

Lunch and Informal Networking

1:00 - 2:00

Speaker: Charlie Allen, Department of Homeland Security, A Perspective from DHS

2:00 - 2:15

Break

2:15 - 3:30

Panel Discussion: A Code of Ethics for the Intelligence Profession

Jan Goldman, National Defense Intelligence University; Jim Giza, Johns Hopkins University; Nancy Bernkopf Tucker, ADDNI for Analytic Integrity and Standards

3:30 - 3:45

Break

3:45 - 4:45

Closing Speaker: General Hayden, Director, Central Intelligence Agency and Former Principal Deputy Director of National Intelligence [Invited]

4:45 - 5:00

Summary & Farewell: Mark Lowenthal/Tom Shreeve/Robert Heibel

Visit IAFIE's website at www.iafie.org to learn more about it.