Notice Regarding Proposed Changes to Tuition and Fees

In accordance with §23.1-307.D. of the Code of Virginia (see below) Norfolk State University is providing notice that changes to the University's tuition and fees are now being considered.

§23.1-307.D. No governing board of any public institution of higher education shall approve an increase in undergraduate tuition or mandatory fees without providing students and the public a projected range of the planned increase, an explanation of the need for the increase, and notice of the date and location of any vote on such increase at least 30 days prior to such vote.

Since the 2019-2020 academic year, the Norfolk State University Board of Visitors (BOV) has not raised tuition and fees as it strives to remain affordable to the students and families served while recognizing the continuing need for additional operating resources. However, during its April 30, 2021, meeting, the NSU BOV will consider proposed changes for the 2021 – 2022 academic year for tuition, fees, room and board, as follows:

- The proposed range increase for tuition and mandatory E&G (Education & General) fees for all students is between 0% - 2%. The additional resources will fund additional student services support and increased operating costs.
- The proposed range increase for mandatory non-E&G fees is between 0% and 2%. The additional resources will provide funding for health services related to the COVID-19 pandemic and address increased cost of operations.
- The proposed range increase for cost of housing is between 0% - 2% to address increased debt service cost and maintenance to the housing stock.
- The proposed range increase for the University's food services provider is between 0% - 2% to accommodate on-campus student operating costs.

The incremental revenue generated from these increases will be invested in the overall educational experience of the University's students. The additional financial resources will help ensure a stable workforce and provide for the increased cost of operations and facility maintenance.
