NSU Child Development Laboratory

Confidentiality

Our program stresses the importance of protecting the rights and privacy of children, families and staff. The practice of maintaining the confidentiality of verbal information and written records is a basic policy of our program. It is program policy that staff should not repeat or share private information they received from the children.

All children’s information are kept confidential and locked and only be accessible to authorized program staff. The Lab program will only release the child’s information to those individuals, agencies, schools or facilities that provides the signed authorization by the child’s parent/guardian to release the child’s information.

1. _____________________________________
2. _____________________________________
3. _____________________________________
4. _____________________________________

I have read and accept the confidentiality policy in the NSU Child Development Laboratory school. The program will not share or release my child’s records or information without my authorization.

_________________________________________ (Child’s Name)

_________________________________________  __________________________
       Parent’s Signature                                      Date