POLICY CONTENTS

The Norfolk State University Code of Student Conduct promotes an environment conducive to students and their academic pursuits. The Dean of Students Office is committed to an educational and developmental process that balances the interests of individual students and the University community. In general, the process addressing student conduct is different from criminal and civil court proceedings and may occur concurrently. Procedures and rights in student conduct procedures are conducted with fairness to all. Due process, as defined within this policy, assures written notice and a hearing before an objective decision-maker. The procedures followed for student conduct proceedings are available online at http://www.nsu.edu/student-affairs/dean-of-students/student-complaints.
I. Jurisdiction

The Code of Student Conduct applies to all students at the University to include both undergraduate and graduate students, and all University-affiliated student organizations.

The Code of Student Conduct applies to behaviors that take place on campus, at University-sponsored events and may also apply off-campus when the Dean of Students (or designee) determines the off-campus conduct legitimately affects the University’s interest. Furthermore, the Code of Student Conduct may be applied to behavior conducted online or via the internet through various electronic mediums. This includes, but is not limited to, social networking websites, blogs, and electronic mail.

Violations of housing and residential hall guidelines will be referred to the Office of Housing & Residence Life. The Community Standards and Expectations Guide for Residential Living provides students with a document designed to enhance the Spartan Residential Experience by proactively addressing student conduct which may arise within the residential community. Housing & Residence Life’s student conduct officer(s) will adjudicate such violations; however, severe or recurring infractions will be referred to the Dean of Students Office.

Students are adults and enjoy protection in alignment with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974. Parents and third parties may be provided information on behalf of the student if a disclosure of consent form has been completed by the student and on file in the Dean of Students Office. If the respondent is found responsible for an alcohol and/or drug violation, the parent(s) or legal guardian(s) of dependent students under the age of twenty-one (21) will be notified. The University reserves the right to notify parents or families, without a student’s consent, in health and/or safety emergencies.

Limitations

Violations of the Code of Student Conduct should be made immediately but no later than three months after the date of discovery. The University reserves the right to investigate matters after three months of discovery in instances of extenuating circumstances; however, the longer it takes one to report a violation, the more difficult it becomes for the University to obtain information and contact witnesses.

14. Hazing—Refer to Administrative Policy # 27-03 (2014) Hazing.

26. Violating federal, state or local laws that significantly or materially affect the University’s interest.

27. Violating any published Board of Visitors or University policies or rules.

III. Amnesty

The University encourages the reporting of violations of the Code of Student Conduct and crimes to Campus Police and the Dean of Students Office. The University realizes that students are sometimes hesitant to report such conduct. To create a culture of reporting, the University may not charge students with minor violations. Amnesty is considered on the following occasions:

- When a reporting student is a victim of misconduct.
- When a reporting student offers assistance to others in need.
- When a reporting student brings a drug/alcohol dependency issue to the attention of a University official for assistance.

The University may impose educational options as opposed to sanctions in such cases, at the discretion of the student conduct officer.

Amnesty may not be offered if the infraction places the health or safety of any other person at risk or if the respondent has been found to have committed the same disciplinary infraction.
IV. Sanctions
The following lists the sanctions the University may impose as a result of a violation of the Code of Student Conduct as applicable. Any misconduct resulting in suspension or expulsion will be notated on the academic transcript. Such notation will be removed once the respondent has completed the terms of suspension and in good standing with the University. A request in writing, including the rationale, must be submitted to the Dean of Students for approval.

- Warning: An official written notice that the student has violated the Code of Student Conduct.

- Disciplinary Probation: Disciplinary probation is for a specific length of time (minimum—semester; maximum—until graduation). Mandatory conditions may be imposed and may include, but not limited to the following: loss of good standing and/or denial of the privilege to hold a position of leadership or responsibility in any University student organization or activity. If the student is found in violation of the Code of Student Conduct while on disciplinary probation, the University may impose additional sanctions.

- Educational Project: The requirement to attend, present or participate in a program related to the violation. It may also require writing reflective papers.

- Community Service: The requirement to complete University mandated service.

- Counseling Referral: The requirement to visit the Counseling Center and complete a screening within five (5) business days of the respondent’s conference/hearing. Upon completion of the screening, if any additional services are recommended they must be completed within the timeframe provided by the Counseling Center.

- Fine: A sum imposed as a result of an offense; the sum must be reasonable and may be imposed depending on the severity of the violation. Be aware that if challenged on this, a court may well hold that the U is without this authority.

- Loss of Privilege: The denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time.

- Restitution: The repayment for damage to University property or facilities; payment for damage to the property or person of a member of the University community, guests of the University, and/or other appropriate third parties; repayment of misappropriated or misused University funds. Restitution must be paid by cashier’s check or money order. A disciplinary hold will be placed on the respondent’s record until payment is made; however, if payment is not made by the end of the semester, the respondent’s account will be charged.

- University Housing Reassignment: The reassignment to another residential hall as determined by the Office of Housing & Residence Life.
• University Housing Visitation Restriction: The loss of privilege to host any guests in the lobby of the student’s residence hall and/or individual room.

• University Housing Removal: The student’s privilege to live or visit any residential hall is permanently revoked.

• Suspension: Separation from the University for a specified amount of time (minimum—a semester; maximum—three years). The student will be required to vacate the campus within 24 hours of notification of this action. During the suspension period, the student is prohibited from enrolling in any courses and not permitted on University property.

• Expulsion: The permanent separation of a student from the University.

• Other Sanctions: Additional sanctions may be implemented as deemed appropriate to the offense.

• Interim Actions: The Dean of Students or designee may impose restrictions and/or separate a student from the University community pending the outcome of a hearing to protect the interests of the health, safety and welfare of the University community, or to ensure the student’s safety and well-being. These actions can include but are not limited to no-contact orders, amending a student’s schedule, hall relocation and/or interim suspension.

• Interim suspension is the temporary separation of a student from the University. If an interim suspension is imposed, the respondent may request a meeting with the dean of students or designee to discuss the interim suspension. The Dean of Students may uphold or lift the interim suspension after meeting with the respondent; however, this decision is final. If the interim suspension is upheld, the respondent will be required to vacate the campus immediately. At the discretion of the Dean of Students or designee, alternative coursework options may be provided.

V. Records

All records maintained in accordance with the Code of Student Conduct will be retained by the Dean of Students Office for seven (7) years. After this period, the record will be destroyed. Records associated with violations resulting in suspension or expulsion will be retained permanently.
