_Green and Gold_

University Alma Mater

_(Words and Music by Dr. Carl W. Haywood, ’71)_

By Virginia’s golden shore
There’s a place that we adore
Where Norfolk’s sun shines bright
Down on our campus site.
The walls of Brown Hall
Will always give a call
To all striving to succeed
Forging onward, bound to lead.

CHORUS
Oh, Norfolk State we love you,
Oh, Norfolk State we’ll always be true,
And when we leave we’ll shed a tear,
For to us you’ve been so dear.
And leaving shed a joyful tear,
For our Alma Mater dear.

Though the years we spend are few
You will teach us what to do
In splendor we’ll relive
The glorious time you give
We’ll wave the green and gold
To praise thee a thousand-fold.
A guiding light to us you’ve been,
Unwav’ring to the end
Message from the President

HISTORY OF NORFOLK STATE UNIVERSITY

Norfolk State College was founded in 1935. The College, brought to life in the midst of the Great Depression, provided a setting in which the youth of the region could give expression to their hopes and aspirations. At this founding, it was named the Norfolk Unit of Virginia Union University. In 1942, the College became the independent Norfolk Polytechnic College, and two years later an Act of the Virginia Legislature mandated that it become a part of Virginia State College.

The College was able to pursue an expanded mission with even greater emphasis in 1956 when another Act of the Legislature enabled the institution to offer its first Bachelor’s degree. The College was separated from Virginia State College and became fully independent in 1969. Subsequent legislative acts designated the institution as a university and authorized the granting of graduate degrees. In 1979, university status was attained.

Today, Norfolk State University is a public, urban, comprehensive University offering programs at undergraduate and graduate levels. IDEAL SPARTAN

The Spartan is highly esteemed as a global citizen and warrior, admired by others for setting universal standards of excellence. Known for their impeccable armor, Spartans are prepared, methodical, jovial, loyal, and courageous. The Ideal Spartan represents NSU at all times and in all places. The five most important pieces of a Spartan’s armor include the cloak, representing pride; the breastplate reflecting integrity; the sword representing engagement; the helmet symbolizing curiosity; and the shield signifying overall excellence.

PRIDE (Cloak)

As with any warrior, a Spartan needs a cloak for inclement weather (life’s challenges). The Spartan warrior knows that before a battle begins, a fighter must have carefully cultivated the self-discipline which will prepare him or her for whatever is to come. Keeping in mind his or her ultimate goal, the warrior is fueled by love of country (the University). Through meaningful and wise choices, the Spartan takes ownership and responsibility for his or her extended family and nation, always representing NSU with valor and praising her people.

INTEGRITY (Breastplate)

The breastplate is one of the most important pieces of armor as it not only protects the Spartan physically but spiritually. The breastplate represents honesty and the deep sense of trust in other Spartans that protects every mature warrior’s heart. The Spartan’s unassailable integrity allows him or her to be given leadership tasks to carry out fully, even when no one is checking, and even when difficult choices must be made alone.

ENGAGEMENT (Sword)

The Spartan’s sword connects him or her with leaders and peers, all of whom are fully engaged in pursuing personal excellence as well as the greater common good. The sword symbolizes Spartan unity on and off the field of battle. A Spartan engages in constant training, ever-ready to take on local, regional, national and global challenges. He or she serves as a model of unceasing civic engagement.

CURIOSITY (Helmet)

The Spartan’s helmet protects and guards his or her ever-expanding intellect. Always seeking to understand new ways of life, listening to the wisdom of community leaders, actively asking questions, and always being open to change, the Spartan constantly sharpens his or her critical thinking skills. This curiosity makes every Spartan a lifelong learner, building habits of mind that move beyond the superficial and always take into account the needs of the whole.

EXCELLENCE (Shield)

The Spartan’s shield safeguards him or her while navigating through the world. The shield allows a Spartan to move ever forward, even in the face of great adversities and disappointments. A Spartan’s education – indeed a Spartan’s whole life --is an unending quest for excellence. When a Spartan is knocked off his or her feet, he or she rises again, not only to press forward but to serve as a signal and motivate others in the fray.

CIVILITY (Heart)

Norfolk State University students embrace civility as a passport to full citizenship in the world. Spartans live with integrity and maintain the highest moral, ethical and intellectual standards. Continuously fostering a community of inclusiveness, students lead with humility, cultivate personal growth and respect the ideas of others. Always open to both unity and diversity, NSU students understand that respect always begins with self and then moves ever outward, creating synergy among fellow Spartans, fellow Americans and all other peoples.

Once a Spartan is fully fitted with his or her armor, he or she is prepared to take on any challenge. A true Spartan always gives back to the Spartan community, contributing unstintingly of his/her time, talent, treasure and service. He or she thus ensures that future generations can sustain the noble legacy of Spartan pride, integrity, engagement, curiosity, excellence, and civility.

UNIVERSITY GUIDELINES GOVERNING STUDENT LIFE

STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

As a member of the Norfolk State University community, students are entitled to all of the rights and privileges guaranteed to every citizen of the United States and the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Basic Rights: Among these rights include freedom of religion, speech, press, the right to peacefully assemble and the right to petition.

Free Speech and Peaceful Assemblies: NSU students are encouraged to exercise freedom of speech and peaceful assemblies in an effort to preserve, celebrate, and broaden freedom of expression. Students and student organizations are free to discuss questions of interest and to express opinions publicly and privately without penalty. Subsequently, the University serves as an academic community that must maintain a safe and orderly educational environment. Students and student organizations may assemble anywhere on the campus, except inside University buildings, as long as they do not disrupt normal University operations or infringe on the rights of others. Acts of expression may not block entry into University buildings and/or interfere with vehicular or pedestrian traffic. The University does not permit unprotected speech to include defamation, obscenity, and speech that is directed to producing imminent lawless action.

This section will not be interpreted as providing limitations to the right of free speech on campus.

CLASSROOM FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY

1. Students have protection through orderly procedures against prejudicial or capricious academic evaluation. Class performance should be judged solely on academic performance. Faculty members shall not consider it their prerogative to go beyond established academic policy.

2. Students are free to take reasonable exception to data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion. Students are, however, responsible for learning the course content required for successfully completing the course.

3. Cases of dishonesty in academic work are considered to be serious violations of the University’s regulations; therefore, dishonest students risk incurring the penalty of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University.

4. The academic program of the University is the basis for all college activities; therefore, each student is expected to attend all classes. Class attendance is a requirement for the successful completion of courses. Adherence to this requirement is the responsibility of the student.

5. Information concerning student views, beliefs and political associations which professors may acquire in the course of their work shall be considered confidential.

ACADEMIC HONOR CODE

Students will conduct themselves ethically and responsibly, safeguarding their own integrity and that of the community. In fairness to themselves and in justice to others, students will not lie, cheat or steal others’ ideas, nor will they tolerate egregious behavior in others. Students will avoid deception and collusion whenever they engage in academic activities offered under the auspices of NSU. As scholars, students will scrupulously avoid plagiarism, learning to select high-quality research sources and to cite them correctly.

Any infraction against the Honor Code will set into motion the academic dishonesty procedures. For more information, visit the Dean of Students website.

COMPLAINTS

The Dean of Students Office holds primary responsibility for the ongoing development and improvement of the quality of student life, including student advocacy. Student Advocacy assists students and parents who may not understand what offices to contact or experience a concern that needs resolution. The Office is available to address comments, questions, and concerns related to the Norfolk State University experience. Concerns should be addressed with someone in the office where the concern originated prior to submitting a complaint to Student Advocacy. Individuals are counseled regarding University policies and procedures, and concerns are investigated by working with campus officials.

Non-academic complaints can be submitted online through Student Advocacy. The form is available at https://surveys.nsu.edu/index.php/844158/lang-en.

NORFOLK STATE UNIVERSITY EQUAL OPPORTUNITY POLICY

Norfolk State University is committed to providing an environment that emphasizes the dignity and worth of every member of its community, is free from harassment, and does not discriminate on the basis of sex in education programs and activities as required by Title IX. Specifically, discrimination based on race, sex, color, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, genetic information, persons with disabilities, or any other status protected by law is prohibited.

Norfolk State University's Human Resources Office, through careful monitoring of employment practices, as well as through educational programming and assisting with the resolution of Equal Opportunity-related complaints, assists the University in its commitment to eliminate discrimination and establish equal opportunity for all of its constituencies. See [BOV Policy # 04 (2017) Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination](https://www.nsu.edu/hr/docs/bovpolicy04equality opportunitynondiscrimination.pdf) and [BOV Policy # 05 (2017) Title IX: Sexual Violence, Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation](https://www.nsu.edu/hr/docs/bovpolicy05titl[ixsexualviolencediscriminationharassment retaliation.pdf).

STUDENT RIGHT-TO-KNOW ACT

Disclosure information pertaining to this act is available at www.nsu.edu/enrollment-management/student-right-to-know.
GENERAL PROCEDURES

GENERAL EXPECTATIONS
All students, by accepting admission to Norfolk State University, agree to abide by all regulations and policies published in the Student Handbook, the University Catalog, University bulletins and other University publications, as well as federal, state and local laws. In addition, students are expected to exercise appropriate behavior and applied reason during their tenure at the University.

Students are expected to respect the rights and welfare of all members of the University community, visitors and guests. The University recognizes that a thoughtful and reasonable search for truth can be conducted only in an atmosphere that is free of intimidation and coercion. As such, violence, disruption of the learning process and intimidation are unacceptable to the University community. Students are expected to examine critically, analyze and otherwise evaluate the University, its programs, policies and procedures using processes that appeal to reason and do not compromise the academic mission, climate or integrity of the University. Students are expected to assume full responsibility for and will be held liable for their individual actions.

GENERAL DECORUM
Students are encouraged and expected to conduct themselves in an acceptable and professional manner that reflects personal pride, dignity and respect. Care should be taken to demonstrate appropriate grooming habits and behavior that will reflect positively on the individual and the institution.

Services and guidance in areas of student adjustment are afforded to assist students in developing priorities and a sound basis for decision-making. Certain latitudes of operation are provided to help students assume and demonstrate adult responsibility.

UNIVERSITY ASSEMBLY
Programs addressing issues that are University-wide in scope or have campus-wide appeal are convened in University assemblies. Because these programs are administered to communicate information of interest to the University community, students are urged to attend and participate. Some programs may be compulsory in attendance.

STUDENT CONDUCT
The Dean of Students Office is responsible for the overall administration of student conduct. Students must follow all published policies and procedures. Students are responsible for respecting and complying with all laws and rights of good citizenship. For more information about the Code of Student Conduct and COVID-19 Addendum to the Code of Student Conduct visit the following link https://www.nsu.edu/dean-of- students/student-conduct.

CLASS ATTENDANCE
The University expects students to attend all classes per the Attendance Policy. The student assumes full responsibility for work missed due to an absence. Make-up work may be permitted at the discretion of the instructor.
While absences are discouraged, the University recognizes that, on occasion, students may have legitimate reasons for being absent. Thus, a student will be permitted one unexcused absence per semester hour credit or the number of times a given class meets per week. Once a student exceeds the number of allowed unexcused absences, an instructor may require an official University excuse. Not more than twenty percent (20%) of class meetings (excused and/or unexcused) may be missed by a student during a given semester. At the discretion of the instructor, a student whose absences exceed 20% of scheduled class meetings for the semester may receive a grade of “F” for the course.

Students have the responsibility to confer with instructors regarding all absences or intended absences. If sudden departure from the campus (for an emergency or extraordinary reason) prevents a student from communicating with each of his or her instructors, the student is expected to notify the Dean of Students Office within 48 hours.

Class excuses are issued for legitimate reasons as deemed appropriate by the Dean of Students Office. Such incidents may include but are not limited to medical reasons, funerals for immediate family members, or official University business/activity. Official written documentation is required. Notes from relatives, friends, guardians, etc. are not accepted as “official” documentation for absences. The Dean of Students Office will determine if an absence is legitimate and if an excuse will be issued. Unless there are extenuating circumstances, an absence request form, documentation, and a copy of your NSU ID must be provided to the Dean of Students Office upon return and by the last day of classes. All missed coursework must be completed within the timeframe given by the instructor and/or by the last day of classes.

Students who become ill are encouraged to report to the Spartan Health Center, located in Spartan Station, for “minor” medical treatment. A current NSU ID Card must be presented prior to treatment. Written verification of illness issued by the Spartan Health Center should be delivered to the Dean of Students Office and an official University excuse should be obtained.

Students residing in on-campus housing facilities are governed by the same policies and procedures as nonresident students in regards to class attendance and class excuses are concerned.

SUMMER SCHOOL CLASS ATTENDANCE

Students attending summer school classes are expected to attend all scheduled class sessions. Those students who find it necessary to be absent should notify their instructors as soon as possible to make arrangements for making up any classwork/tests missed during the absence. The instructor reserves the right to require written documentation via the Dean of Students Office for any classes missed.

ABSENCE FROM FINAL EXAMINATIONS

If a student misses a final examination because of an emergency, he/she should notify the instructor within 48 hours after the examination was scheduled. Excuses for missing a final exam are issued by the Dean of Students Office only with the consent of the instructor. Such excuses are given only in extreme emergencies and official, written documentation, must be presented before an excuse is issued.

Failure to follow the procedure outlined for absence from final examinations will result in a grade of “F” for the examination, and a final grade will be computed and given for the course

WITHDRAWAL
Any student who wishes to withdraw from the University must submit an Application for Withdrawal, which may be obtained from the academic department, advisor, or the Office of the Registrar. Non-attendance or notification sent to instructors does not constitute an official withdrawal.

It is the student’s responsibility to follow and complete all procedures to drop classes and/or withdraw from the University. If the student is ill or otherwise incapacitated and cannot complete the withdrawal (or drop) process, the student must contact, or have someone contact the Dean of Students Office immediately.

Withdrawal Refund Policy
Tuition and fee charges are adjusted on a pro-rata basis for students who withdraw. Withdrawal from the University may result in a reduction or cancellation of financial aid awards. Students receiving financial aid should contact the Office of Financial Aid for complete information about their individual situation. Military students should refer to BOV Policy #07 (2014) Military Deployment and Administrative Policy #31-501 (2014) Military Tuition Relief Refund and Reinstatement.

A student who fails to adhere to the published deadlines for withdrawing from (dropping) classes or withdrawing from the University will be charged the appropriate tuition and will receive a failing grade (F).

OFF-CAMPUS TRIPS
When a class is taken off campus, signatures of approval should be obtained from the department head and academic school dean prior to the trip. Written requests must include the destination, date and time of departure/return, mode of transportation, itinerary, a list of student travelers’ names, and the names of chaperones. A copy of approved requests should be forwarded to the Office of the Provost and the Dean of Students Office. Students should visit the Dean of Students Office to obtain official class excuses.

BULLETIN BOARDS
Bulletin boards are placed in areas of greatest student concentration. Students should read them daily to keep abreast of University events/information. Prior to posting signs, notices, posters, etc. on any open bulletin board, they must be approved by the Office of Student Activities and Leadership. Unapproved posted items are subject to immediate removal.

PETS AND SERVICE ANIMALS
Pets of any kind are not permitted on campus or in campus facilities. Students requiring service animals must make arrangements through OASIS by calling 757-823-8325.

EMAIL ACCOUNTS
Norfolk State University considers email to be one of the primary mechanisms for official communication with NSU students unless otherwise prohibited by law. The University reserves the right to send official communications to students by email to their University-supplied email addresses.
Students must use their NSU email account when communicating with the university. Official University email accounts are provided to all registered students, faculty, and staff. All passwords for accessing University information systems must be kept confidential and used according to acceptable use policies for technology.

Students
Students are expected to check their official NSU email accounts on a frequent and consistent basis in order to stay current with University-related communications. The University recommends checking email several times per week, preferably once per day. It is the student’s responsibility to promptly report any problems with email accounts or access to email to the Office of Information Technology Help Desk at 757-823-8678.

Faculty
Faculty members are encouraged to use the official NSU email address for all University business. Faculty members will determine how emails will be used in their classes and specify email requirements and expectations in course syllabi. The use of non-NSU email addresses for communication with students regarding University business or educational matters is not acceptable. Using such accounts, faculty may unintentionally be in violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Administrative Offices
Offices such as Admissions, Financial Aid, and Registrar will send selected official communications to students via email. Such email might include individualized or group messages such as financial aid award letters, room assignments, advising appointments or University-wide surveys.

PLANNED STUDENT SECURITY MESSAGE
Students should be aware that personal information posted on public newsgroups, public chat groups, community websites, and even private or commercial on-line sites, may be accessible by anyone on the Internet. Such personal information may be indexed and cached by search engines such as Google or Yahoo and may remain available on search engines even after the original website has removed the information. Please keep this in mind whenever posting personal information on public websites.

EMERGENCY ALERT SYSTEM
Get alerted about emergencies and other important community news by signing up for our Emergency Alert Program. This system enables us to provide you with critical information quickly in a variety of situations, such as severe weather, unexpected road closures, and evacuations of buildings or neighborhoods. You will receive time-sensitive messages wherever you specify, such as your home, mobile or business phones, email address, text messages and more. You pick where, you pick how. Login

Students are also encouraged to download the LiveSafe app. LiveSafe is designed to improve communication between members of the University community and campus public safety. - Send your location to campus police in an emergency. You control this; campus public safety does not and will not actively track your location.
- Report suspicious activity anonymously to campus public safety.
• Invite friends or family to monitor your location as you walk home. You never have to walk alone.
• Receive real-time safety alerts from campus public safety to your phone.

By promoting a smoke-free environment on campus, the University seeks to (1) protect the public health and welfare by prohibiting smoking, including the use of electronic cigarettes; (2) guarantee the right of nonsmokers to breathe smoke free air, while recognizing that the need to breathe smoke free air shall have priority over the desire to smoke; and (3) to encourage a healthier, more productive living and learning environment for all members of the University community.

ALCOHOL & ILLEGAL DRUGS

Use and/or possession of marijuana, narcotics, illicit drugs or drug paraphernalia (except as expressly permitted by law or University regulations) on property owned or controlled by the University is also strictly prohibited. First offense sanctions may include disciplinary probation for one year, fine, an educational project, parental notification if under the age of 21, and removal from University housing and/or disciplinary suspension. The sale or distribution of marijuana, narcotics or dangerous drugs (except as expressly permitted by law) on property owned or controlled by the University or at functions sponsored or supervised by the University is strictly prohibited. Persons found to be involved in the sale of illegal drugs will be subject to expulsion from the University.

Norfolk State University is committed to providing a learning, living and working environment that promotes personal integrity, civility, and mutual respect in an environment free of sexual misconduct and discrimination. Sexual misconduct violates an individual’s fundamental rights and personal dignity. The University considers all forms of sexual misconduct to be serious offenses in violation of Federal and State statutes, the University’s Teaching Faculty Handbook, Administrative and Professional Faculty Handbook, Student Handbook, and Codes of Conduct for employees and students. All members of the University community, including Board of Visitors members, faculty, administrators, staff, students and friends of the University, share in the responsibility for addressing the problem of campus sexual misconduct, sexual assault and harassment at Norfolk State University. There is zero tolerance towards sexual misconduct. For more information, see BOV Policy # 05 (2017) Title IX: Sexual and Gender-Based Harassment, and Other Forms of Interpersonal Violence.

WEAPONS
Norfolk State University prohibits the unauthorized possession, carrying, maintaining, storage, control, brandishing, or use of firearms and weapons as defined in the Violence Prevention Policy, by students, faculty, staff, transient personnel, invitees or any other third parties while on University property, on University controlled sites, and at University-sponsored activities, services or programs, even if the owner has a valid permit for that weapon. This prohibition includes the unauthorized storage of firearms and weapons in vehicles on campus and in residence halls. This policy prohibits concealed weapons. The possession, carrying, use and brandishing of a potentially harmful object(s) in a situation where there is no reasonable use for it and/or when such object(s) is used to intimidate, cause death or serious bodily injury, or to threaten another with death or serious bodily injury will be considered a violation of this policy.

Examples of weapons include, but are not limited to the following: knives with fixed blades, pocket knives, dirks, switch-blades, butterfly knives, firearms, ammunition, explosives or other incendiary devices, box cutters, razors, broken bottles, metal knuckles, blackjacks, bows and arrows, billy clubs, night sticks, bludgeons, slingshots, machetes, hatchets, nun chukkas, foils, chains, swords, ice picks, stun weapons, acid and other corrosive chemicals. Firearms include, but are not limited to, any gun, rifle, air-gun, pistol, cannon, or handgun designed to fire bullets, BBs, pellets, balls, air, spears, flares, tranquilizers, darts, shots (including paintballs), or any other projectile, whether loaded or unloaded, and the ammunition for any such device.

REPORTING CRIMINAL ACTIVITY AND OTHER EMERGENCIES
It is Norfolk State University Campus Police’s mission to protect the rights, the safety and the welfare of the students, faculty, staff and members of the community. Every person on campus has the right to be free from threats or acts of violence. Everyone is expected, as well as required, to comply with all local, state and federal laws.

Any person living, studying, working and/or visiting the University campus who is victimized or has knowledge of a criminal action/offense or other emergencies should immediately contact Campus Police or any “Campus Security Authority” (defined as a University official who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities). Students, faculty, staff and visitors are also encouraged to report all suspicious persons or activities witnessed on campus and in the surrounding communities.

The anonymous phone line for reporting incidents is (757) 823-2148. Police officers and police sergeants are in constant communication with the University’s telecommunications center and are on duty 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Officers are dispatched immediately after a call is received. “Blue light” emergency call boxes are located throughout the campus. This security measure is provided to ensure safety. Simply pushing the large black button activates the call box and connects the individual to the campus police dispatcher. The dispatcher will then identify the activated call box by number and ask for the nature of the emergency (e.g., “call box number 3, what is your emergency?”). Persons should try to remain calm and speak loudly and clearly while giving the location and nature of the emergency.

All calls, complaints and serious incidents will be investigated by Campus Police. Violations of the law can result in referrals to the Dean of Students Office and/or charges by Norfolk State University’s Campus Police and/or local police.

CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19)

As the Norfolk State University (NSU) leadership, faculty, and staff work to resume in-person activities and classes at NSU, this fluid plan creates the academic and residential experience designed to provide for the health and safety of students as well as for faculty and staff who interact daily with students. Multiple campus constituencies, faculty, staff, administrators, and students were involved in the planning activities that resulted in the creation of this document, including a steering committee consisting of cabinet members who delegated tasks to six subcommittees and an advisory committee. In conjunction with medical professionals and public health guidance, this plan aims to provide the best educational experiences for students while limiting the spread of disease and providing the support systems needed to mitigate the spread of new COVID-19 cases. Robust processes for testing, contact tracing, and isolation are essential to the execution of this plan. Indeed, the University continues to build upon the recommendations for a University-wide plan that will guide these activities.

ACADEMIC INSTRUCTIONS

- Students and faculty are required to practice physical/social distancing.
- Students and faculty are required to wear facemasks or cloth face coverings to reduce the potential spread of the novel coronavirus, COVID-19, from person to person.
- Students and faculty are encouraged to procure or make their own facemasks/cloth face coverings to protect themselves and their peers to supplement University-provided face coverings. The University will make facemasks available to students.
- Students and faculty are also encouraged to use hand-sanitizing stations at entrances to classroom buildings prior to entering and leaving classrooms.
- Students and faculty are further encouraged to bring hand sanitizer with them and sanitizing wipes to disinfect the surfaces of desks and learning stations both before and after use.
- Student, faculty, and staff who are experiencing symptoms consistent with coronavirus infection are advised to stay home, to avoid coming to campus/classroom, and to seek care from either the campus Spartan Health Center (students) or their independent healthcare provider (faculty and staff).
- Any student who is unable or unwilling to wear a mask or face covering, for whatever reason, should consider online courses, as face coverings will be required for in-person classes.

Online instruction
- Online classes will be asynchronous, with possible synchronous elements.
  - The Remote Learning Guide has been posted to help students prepare to learn effectively online.
  - Faculty will continue training to teach effectively online.
  - Colleges, schools and departments will provide the technology specifications needed for the online courses and tools for learning online, including Blackboard, Microsoft Teams, etc.
  - Academic advisors, tutors, counselors and writing assistance, career services and other experiential learning opportunities, etc., will be available for all online learners.
  - Online learners with additional needs will be able to access accommodations.
  - Online learners will be provided with a list of support services and personnel for additional help.
  - Online learners will know who to speak with if there are difficulties learning in class.

DINING SERVICES & MEALS

The Thompson Hospitality Return-to-Campus Plan offers a three-phased approach for dining services.

Phase 1 - all retail and residential dining is take-away and catering is pre-portioned with contactless drop-off.

Phase 2 - provides limited seating, packaged meals and take-away for residential/retail dining options. Catering is available with an attendant to serve.

Phase 3 - continues to have limited seating and take-away with all stations served by associates; however, catering will have a self-service option. When dining on campus, before and after eating, wash hands... thoroughly to reduce the potential transmission of the virus. Wear a mask or face covering until ready to eat and then replace it afterwards. Eating establishments must meet requirements to allow at least 6 feet of distance between each customer, including lines and seating arrangements. Individuals should not sit facing one another. Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to take food back to their rooms, office area, or eat outside, if reasonable.

For more information, please visit the Norfolk State University Path Forward webpage.

RESIDENTIAL HOUSING
- Students living on campus will leave campus when classes end, and final exams will be held prior to students departing for the Thanksgiving break. This arrangement will allow students who are residing on campus to travel home for Thanksgiving and remain at their homes. In rare cases where students are unable to leave campus due to exceptional circumstances, limited special accommodations will be made.

- Undergraduate students will be housed in no greater than two-room doubles in order to provide for sufficient physical/social distancing. This approach will reduce the total number of undergraduate housing spaces available; however, it will also limit the risk of disease transmission between students in a multi-occupancy room. The residential housing assignment staff will contact undergraduates as that process takes shape. For students living in Spartan Suites living spaces, no major residential changes are expected because the apartment-style living spaces with single-occupancy bedrooms already provide for greater physical/social distancing than do most on-campus undergraduate residences. Some adjustments in housing will be needed to support public health needs in all residence halls.

- The University will provide for the physical/social distancing needed in the classrooms and residence halls, and will set aside sufficient housing for quarantine or self-isolation in case of a wave of infection. If health conditions improve, this plan will allow NSU to expand on campus residential access later during the year.

- In addition, there are many students with special circumstances, including medical needs. As during the 2020 spring semester, a limited number of residential spaces will be reserved for students who have a need to be on campus due to a special circumstance. Students will be notified by the housing staff regarding their request.

HEALTH/SAFETY INFORMATION
Who can access my residential community?
All NSU residential communities are locked 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Exceptions may be made during peak times such as move-in at the start of the semester and move-out at the end of the semester. Your SpartanCard will allow you access to your residential community only during your stay. Your card will be deactivated during University breaks.

What safety measures will be in place to promote a safe, healthy and clean living and learning environment?
All students are expected to read and accept the information outlined in this section to reduce the threat of coronavirus on campus. Students who choose to live on campus must also complete safety modules and sign a certificate of compliance prior to move-in. All students returning to campus will be expected to engage in protective personal behaviors, including physical distancing to minimize the risks of exposure to coronavirus (COVID19).
CLEANING EXPECTATIONS
Community bathrooms are located on each floor in the traditional residence halls. These areas will receive cleaning services aligned with local, state, and federal safety and health guidelines to create and maintain safe, clean and healthy residential communities. Community bathrooms will be cleaned and sanitized twice a day and revisited throughout the day as needed.

Guidance for Residence Hall Community Spaces
Elevators. To promote physical distancing, you are encouraged to ride the elevator solo or with a limited number of people, or use the stairs whenever possible. If you are using the elevator, wear your face covering and avoid touching the elevator buttons with your exposed hand/fingers, if possible. Be sure to wash your hands or use hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol upon departing the elevator.

Stairwells and Hallways. Use of stairwells and hallways should be used for travel and not to congregate with others. Individuals using stairwells and hallways should be wearing face coverings at all times on campus (other than your room) and remain at least 6 feet away from others whenever possible in common areas, including stairwells and hallways.

Laundry Room Usage. Residents using laundry services in the residential communities and Spartan Station Mini-mall should maintain 6 feet of physical distancing expectations and adhere to the signage displaying hours of operation and usage expectations.

Residential Security.
The residence halls are monitored by front desk staff employed by the Office of Housing and Residence Life (HRL). Each community has a Residence Hall Director and Resident Assistants (RAs) and work-study students who also work for HRL. Additionally, security patrols are conducted by law enforcement personnel employed by University Police. Doors are locked 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and access is given to students through their Spartan ID card.

SECTION III: ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Academic Programs .................................................. 34
THE GREEN AND GOLD STANDARD V1.0
The Green and Gold Standard v1.0 highlights academics as the center of Norfolk State University by characterizing the Ideal Spartan graduate as an academic—aesthetically aware, distinctively prepared and perpetually affiliated with the institution. The Green and Gold Standard v1.0 encourages innovation with impact so our students might flourish with distinction.

To that end, all initiatives, tools and collaborative efforts at Norfolk State University are designed to accomplish two objectives. First, they will increase the three Ps: student “Performance, Persistence and Preparation” through intentional engagement. Second, they will support student identity formation in four phases: exploration, development, clarification, and actualization. Students will experience clear pathway alignment so they reach their self-defined personal, academic and career goals.

In sum, at Norfolk State University, we believe that access provides the opportunity; success seizes it. The Green and Gold Standard v1.0 poises us to lead the way.

University’s ability to attract such scholars and to enrich the academic community

School of Business
Accredited by AACSB-International, the School of Business offers degree programs such as accountancy, business, and tourism and hospitality. The mission of the School of Business is to prepare students for careers in all types of organizations and for continued academic study. This is accomplished in a learner-centered community that promotes academic achievement, professional growth, and recognition of the importance of diversity, technology, globalization, and ethics in the workplace and society.

OFFICE OF ACADEMIC ENGAGEMENT
Reporting to the Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Office of Academic Engagement is responsible for student success initiatives to increase student “Performance, Persistence and Preparation” at Norfolk State University. The Dr. Patricia Lynch Stith Student Success Center and Student Pathways and Academic Formation respectively operate under the Office of Academic Engagement. Additionally, the Office of Academic Engagement facilitates resolution for academic-related student concerns when they have reached the Office of the Provost after following appropriate protocol at the departmental and college/school level.

STUDENT PATHWAYS AND ACADEMIC FORMATION
A unit of the Office of Academic Engagement, Student Pathways and Academic Formation is responsible for Spartan Seminars, Learning Communities, and Spartan Pathways (Career Pathways Initiative). The unit works with faculty and staff University-wide to support student “Performance, Persistence and Preparation” in the following ways:
• Foster an academic environment wherein students become acutely-aware and distinctively prepared as emerging scholars and professionals;
• Offer curricular and co-curricular initiatives for students in all four years of their college experience, emphasizing academic/intellectual and career identity formation;
• Play a key role in preparing NSU graduates to enter rewarding careers in their chosen field(s) and/or to pursue graduate school with a clear purpose after degree completion;
• Track and assess the placement and performance of graduates after degree completion.

SPARTAN SEMINAR
To support its academic mission, Norfolk State University has created a series of three (3), one (1) credit courses called Spartan Seminars (SEM 101, 102, and 201). Meta-major learning communities are integrated into the Spartan Seminar series. Students often ask the question, “How do I get there from here?” Sometimes students ask this question because they need to locate a campus resource or office. Other times, the question is more profound. For example: “How will I reach my future educational or career destination?” The Spartan Seminar Series supports students in navigating the academic journey in alignment with self-defined goals. Students in SEM 101 and 102 study and apply foundational academic skills, engage in structured identity (self-concept) exploration, and purposefully learn about key University resources, programs of study, and potential career options. Students in SEM 201 engage in structured activities to support their transition from the expectations of lower-division to upper-division academics, while developing a more defined personal, academic and career identity (self-concept).

LEARNING COMMUNITIES
Learning Communities are specialized groups designed to integrate classroom studies with focused, hands-on academic experiences. The combination of curricular and co-curricular activities inside and outside of the classroom enables students to fully engage in their NSU experience and learn to encounter real world experiences with an interdisciplinary approach.

The learning communities are:

1. Food Access and Advocacy
2. Visual Arts
3. Society of Spartan Sisters
4. DNIMAS
5. Chemistry
6. FACE IT
7. MENtality
8. SPECTRUM
9. Street Smarts + Book Smarts
10. Army ROTC
11. Navy ROTC
12. S.A.S.E (SPARTANS ACCESS TO SECONDARY EDUCATION)
13. Leadership
SPARTAN PATHWAYS (CAREER PATHWAYS INITIATIVE)
Spartan Pathways is Norfolk State University’s career pathways initiative. The distinctive aspect of Spartan Pathways is its location within the Division of Academic Affairs and its intentional focus on the academic enterprise. Faculty lead the Spartan Pathways initiative with a commitment to fundamentally and routinely examine, enhance, and even change the curriculum to reflect workforce requirements. They do this with lower division students by engaging in the work of meta-major learning communities to assist students in exploring and developing a career identity. Faculty members continue working with upper division students to clarify and actualize their career identity through intentional curricular and co-curricular engagement via major courses, internships, research partnerships, and other experiences. Moreover, faculty collaborate with students, industry partners, and other University stakeholders on original projects designed to improve how the curriculum and general classroom experience prepare students for reaching their post-graduation self-defined goals. Spartan Pathways aims to deliver a solid return on tuition dollar investment by connecting students to career success.

ACADEMIC STUDENT CONCERNS

Norfolk State University (NSU) is committed to fostering intellectual inquiry in a climate of academic freedom and integrity. NSU’s faculty, staff, and students alike are expected to uphold these principles and exhibit tolerance and respect for others.

The awarding of grades and other academic evaluation rests with the faculty. However, when a student believes that a faculty member has failed to meet his or her obligations in an instructional setting, the student has the right to have his or her concern addressed expeditiously and thoroughly. This could include an appeal of a grade, accusation of academic dishonesty, etc. In the event of an academic issue/concern, students should express their concern in the following order: (1st) instructor, (2nd) department chairperson, (3rd) college or school dean, and (4th) the Office of the Provost

1. The student should express the concerns respectfully to the professor. If that does not bring resolution;
2. The student and instructor (preferably together) should confer with the chairperson of the department offering the course. If that does not yield resolution;
3. The student should confer with the dean of the college or school in which the department of the referenced class is housed. If that does not yield resolution;
4. The student may initiate a formal written appeal through the Office of the Provost for review and investigation.

In cases involving academic dishonesty, if the student either accepts responsibility or is found responsible, the faculty member should inform the Office of the Provost of the incident. The Office of the Provost will notify the Dean of Students’ office, which will place the student on disciplinary probation.

Cases elevating to the Office of the Provost may be heard by the Academic Grievance Committee. The Academic Grievance Committee will make a recommendation to the Provost for a final decision.
For additional information regarding academic concerns, please visit: http://www.nsu.edu/student-pathways-academic-formation/student-concerns. Student Resolution Forms for the academic schools are as follows: School of Business, College of Liberal Arts, College of Science, Engineering, and Technology, and School of Education.

CONCERNS ABOUT GRADES OR OTHER ASSESSMENTS

If a student has a concern relating to a particular grade or other assessment of his or her academic work, the student first should speak with the instructor of the class to understand how the grade or other evaluation was derived and to address the student's specific concern. If the student does not feel comfortable speaking with the class instructor about the matter, he or she should bring the issue to the attention of the department chair in order to seek advice on how best to address the issue.

If the student believes that the issue has not been adequately addressed, he/she should bring the issue to the attention of the dean of the college or school. The dean will work with the student and the faculty to bring the matter to resolution. If the student does not feel that the dean’s findings were accurate, he/she has the right to appeal the decision to the Office of the Provost. Once a formal appeal has been filed in the Office of the Provost, it may be heard by the Academic Grievance Committee, which makes a recommendation to the Provost. The decision from the Office of the Provost is final.

CONCERNS INVOLVING A FACULTY MEMBER

Listed below are some of the areas which might be included as areas of concern:

1. Failure to show appropriate respect in an instructional setting for the rights of others to hold opinions differing from their own;
2. Misuse of faculty authority to promote a political, social, or personal cause within an instructional setting;
3. Conduct in the classroom or another instructional setting that adversely affects the learning environment.

If a student believes that a faculty member has acted in an unprofessional manner, he or she should first speak with the chairperson from the faculty member’s department to review the claim, establish the substance of the concern, and come to a decision about how best to address the concerns raised by the student. If appropriate, the department chairperson, working with relevant faculty, will investigate the matter fully and attempt to resolve the matter. If the matter remains unresolved to the student’s satisfaction, the student may contact the college or school dean in which the department is housed.

If at any time a student believes the process is not working in a constructive or timely fashion, the student should always follow the academic protocol (1) faculty, (2) department chairperson, (3) college or school dean, and (4) the Office of the Provost.

If the alleged misconduct involves discrimination or harassment by a faculty or staff member, the concern should be filed with the Title IX Coordinator. The use of the terms “discrimination” and “harassment” under these policies and procedures include discrimination, discriminatory harassment, gender-based harassment, sexual harassment, and sexual assault.

Apply for Housing
Students desiring to live on campus must submit a housing application, pay a non-refundable housing deposit and submit a housing contract. Students are strongly encouraged to apply early for housing because on-campus housing is limited. The housing application process for on-campus housing is available online through the Housing & Residence Life’s website.

Roommate Request
Requests for roommates will be honored, to the extent possible, provided the request is mutual, the deadline for fees are met and each person making the request meets all requirements for living in the desired residence hall. Students requesting to room together should submit their housing applications and payments simultaneously.

Occupancy of Rooms
Due to the demand for on-campus housing, students are required to occupy their rooms on or before the first day of classes or they will forfeit their room reservation.

Check-In
Prior to checking into the residence hall, each student should have completed all financial arrangements. The University reserves the right to deny access to any student who owes an outstanding balance. Once a student has obtained his/her room key, he/she should inspect the room and report all discrepancies on the “Room Condition Card.” All discrepancies in the room must be noted and reported to the residence hall staff prior to occupancy to avoid any unwarranted charges. Only registered students matriculating at the University are permitted to live on campus. Students who fail to make satisfactory payment arrangements and subsequently have their classes cancelled must vacate their assigned room within 24 hours.

Housing during Breaks
All residence halls (except Spartan Suites) will be officially closed during the Thanksgiving, winter, spring and summer breaks. Continuing residents and graduates will receive updated information with specific dates and times when they must vacate their respective residence hall.
Withdrawal Procedures
Students desiring to withdraw from on-campus housing are required to clean their room, remove all of their personal possessions, turn in their room key, submit the Contract Cancellation Form to their residence hall director and sign their Blue Card. Residents are responsible for removing all personal possessions and cleaning their rooms, which must be verified by the residence hall director. The student is responsible for completing all paperwork to complete the withdrawal process.

A $100 charge will be applied to the student’s account if, upon check-out, the room/suite is not cleaned. A $20 charge will be applied for each key not returned. Both offenses are subject to possible sanctions that could prohibit future residency in the residence halls. In addition, students withdrawing from the residence halls will incur a $50 charge for improper check-out if they fail to complete any part of the withdrawal process. Students should contact their respective Graduate Assistant or Resident Director if they have any questions.

Check-Out Procedures
Prior to student check-in and upon check-out, each residence hall will have staff assigned to check the condition of the room/suite. To properly check out, students should clean their side of the room, turn in their room key and sign their Blue Card. Damages and other discrepancies will be noted on the back of the resident’s Blue Card. Normal wear is not penalized. All residents assigned to a room/suite are responsible for cleaning his/her side of the room. Rooms and/or suites must be clean and free of all trash. Students housed in the suites must ensure that the bathrooms are clean. Charges will be assessed for broken, damaged, misplaced or out-of-area furniture. Failure to follow correct check-out procedures will result in a fine and possible sanctions that may prohibit future residency in the residence halls. Housing & Residence Life reserves the right to charge all occupants of a room if damages occur or personal items remain and the violator cannot be identified.

Off-Campus Housing
The University has an off-campus housing referral listing to aid students in finding privately-owned accommodations. Information is available about rooms, houses and apartments that are available to students on the Housing & Residence Life website. Contracts or agreements are private matters solely between the student and the landlord. Students are urged to make living arrangements well in advance of the beginning of the semester. NSU is not affiliated with any rental listing, off-campus housing party or landlord, and is not a party to any landlord-student contractual agreements. For more information on off-campus housing locations, please visit Housing & Residence Life’s website.

Violation of Residence Hall Rules and Regulations
It is recognized that living in groups requires a certain level of tolerance and conformity by all concerned. Rules controlling conduct within housing owned or controlled by the University are promulgated by Housing & Residence Life to enhance the safety and comfort of everyone living in the residence halls. These rules, along with procedures for their enforcement and applicable sanctions, are published in the Residential Handbook: Guide to Community Living. Norfolk State University’s Code of Student Conduct and disciplinary procedures apply to all students, including those who live in the residence halls. Alleged violations of the Code of Student Conduct by residence hall students will be forwarded to the Dean of Students Office for disciplinary action.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

Student publications are valuable aids in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion on campus. Not only do they bring student interests and concerns to the attention of the campus community, they also serve as vital means of communication for the faculty and administration. Although student publications are not an official voice of the University, they have a responsibility to represent the University in an objective manner.

The University has two major student publications: the Spartan Echo/Spartan Echo Online and the Spartan Reflections Yearbook. The Spartan Echo/Spartan Echo Online is the student newspaper, which is operated by students under the supervision of a faculty advisor who is a member of the Journalism Department staff. Though mainly devoted to news of campus life, the Spartan Echo/Spartan Echo Online also features articles of national importance and interest to the campus community. The paper, under the leadership of a student editor, is published bi-weekly during the academic year.

A staff comprised primarily of students assembles the Spartan Reflections Yearbook. It features a pictorial review of campus events that occur throughout the academic year, as well as photos of faculty, staff and students--particularly members of the graduating senior class.
