University Alma Mater
(Words and Music by Dr. Carl W. Haywood, ’71)

By Virginia’s golden shore
There’s a place that we adore
Where Norfolk’s sun shines bright
Down on our campus site.
The walls of Brown Hall
Will always give a call
To all striving to succeed
Forging onward, bound to lead.

CHORUS
Oh, Norfolk State we love you,
Oh, Norfolk State we’ll always be true,
And when we leave we’ll shed a tear,
For to us you’ve been so dear.
And leaving shed a joyful tear,
For our Alma Mater dear.

Though the years we spend are few
You will teach us what to do
In splendor we’ll relive
The glorious time you give
We’ll wave the green and gold
To praise thee a thousand-fold.
A guiding light to us you’ve been,
Unwav’ring to the end.

HISTORY OF NORFOLK STATE UNIVERSITY

Norfolk State College was founded in 1935. The College, brought to life in the midst of the Great Depression, provided a setting in which the youth of the region could give expression to their hopes and aspirations. At this founding, it was named the Norfolk Unit of Virginia Union University. In 1942, the College became the independent Norfolk Polytechnic College, and two years later an Act of the Virginia Legislature mandated that it become a part of Virginia State College.

The College was able to pursue an expanded mission with even greater emphasis in 1956 when another Act of the Legislature enabled the institution to offer its first Bachelor’s degree. The College was separated from Virginia State College and became fully independent in 1969. Subsequent legislative acts designated the institution as a university and authorized the granting of graduate degrees. In 1979, university status was attained.

Today, Norfolk State University is a public, urban, comprehensive University offering programs at undergraduate and graduate levels. Founded in 1935, Norfolk State University adheres to the traditional purpose of the Historically Black University and espouses the tradition of service to its students, alumni, the academy, the Commonwealth of Virginia, the nation, and the world.

IDEAL SPARTAN

The Spartan is highly esteemed as a global citizen and warrior, admired by others for setting universal standards of excellence. Known for their impeccable armor, Spartans are prepared, methodical, jovial, loyal, and courageous. The Ideal Spartan represents NSU at all times and in all places. The five most important pieces of a Spartan’s armor include the cloak, representing pride; the breastplate reflecting integrity; the sword representing engagement; the helmet symbolizing curiosity; and the shield signifying overall excellence.

PRIDE (cloak)
As with any warrior, a Spartan needs a cloak for inclement weather (life’s challenges). The Spartan warrior knows that before a battle begins, a fighter must have carefully cultivated the self-discipline which will prepare him or her for whatever is to come. Keeping in mind his or her ultimate goal, the warrior is fueled by love of country (the University). Through meaningful and wise choices, the Spartan takes ownership and responsibility for his or her extended family and nation, always representing NSU with valor and praising her people.

INTEGRITY (breastplate)
The breastplate is one of the most important pieces of armor as it not only protects the Spartan physically but spiritually. The breastplate represents honesty and the deep sense of trust in other Spartans that protects every mature warrior’s heart. The Spartan’s unassailable integrity allows him or her to be given leadership tasks to carry out in fully, even when no one is checking, and even when difficult choices must be made alone.

ENGAGEMENT (sword)
The Spartan’s sword connects him or her with leaders and peers, all of whom are fully engaged in pursuing personal excellence as well as the greater common good. The sword symbolizes Spartan unity on and off the field of battle. A Spartan engages in constant training, ever-ready to take on local, regional, national and global challenges. He or she serves as a model of unceasing civic engagement.

CURIOSITY (helmet)
The Spartan’s helmet protects and guards his or her ever-expanding intellect. Always seeking to understand new ways of life, listening to the wisdom of community leaders, actively asking questions, and always being open to change, the Spartan constantly sharpens his or her critical thinking skills. This curiosity makes every Spartan a lifelong learner, building habits of mind that move beyond the superficial and always take into account the needs of the whole.

EXCELLENCE (shield)
The Spartan’s shield safeguards him or her while navigating through the world. The shield allows a Spartan to move ever forward, even in the face of great adversities and disappointments. A Spartan’s education – indeed a Spartan’s whole life --is an unending quest for excellence. When a Spartan is knocked off his or her feet, he or she rises again, not only to press forward but to serve as a signal and motivate others in the fray.

CIVILITY
Norfolk State University students embrace civility as a passport to full citizenship in the world. Spartans live with integrity and maintain the highest moral, ethical and intellectual standards. Continuously fostering a community of inclusiveness, students lead with humility, cultivate personal growth and respect the ideas of others. Always open to both unity and diversity, NSU students understand that respect always begins with self and then moves ever outward, creating synergy among fellow Spartans, fellow Americans and all other peoples.

Once a Spartan is fully fitted with his or her armor, he or she is prepared to take on any challenge. A true Spartan always gives back to the Spartan community, contributing unstintingly of his/her time, talent, treasure and service. He or she thus ensures that future generations can sustain the noble legacy of Spartan pride, integrity, engagement, curiosity, and excellence.

UNIVERSITY GUIDELINES GOVERNING STUDENT LIFE

STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES
As a member of the Norfolk State University community, students are entitled to all of the rights and privileges guaranteed to every citizen of the United States and the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Basic Rights: Among these rights include freedom of religion, speech, press, the right to peacefully assemble and the right to petition.

Free Speech and Peaceful Assemblies: NSU students are encouraged to exercise freedom of speech and peaceful assemblies in an effort to preserve, celebrate and broaden freedom of expression. Students and student organizations are free to discuss questions of interest and to express opinions publicly and privately without penalty. Subsequently, the University serves as an academic community that must maintain a safe and orderly educational environment. Students and student organizations may assemble anywhere on the campus, except inside University buildings, as long as they do not disrupt normal University operations or infringe on the rights of others. Acts of expression may not block entry into University buildings and/or interfere with vehicular or pedestrian traffic. The University does not permit unprotected speech to include defamation, obscenity, and speech that is directed to producing imminent lawless action.

This section will not be interpreted as providing limitations to the right of free speech on campus.

CLASSROOM FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY
1. Students have protection through orderly procedures against prejudicial or capricious academic evaluation. Class performance should be judged solely on academic performance. Faculty members shall not consider it their prerogative to go beyond established academic policy.
2. Students are free to take reasonable exception to data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion. Students are, however, responsible for learning the course content required for successfully completing the course.
3. Cases of dishonesty in academic work are considered to be serious violations of the University’s regulations; therefore, dishonest students risk incurring the penalty of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University.
4. The academic program of the University is the basis for all college activities; therefore, each student is expected to attend all classes. Class attendance is a requirement for the successful completion of courses. Adherence to this requirement is the responsibility of the student.

5. Information concerning student views, beliefs and political associations which professors may acquire in the course of their work shall be considered confidential.

ACADEMIC HONOR CODE
Students will conduct themselves ethically and responsibly, safeguarding their own integrity and that of the community. In fairness to themselves and in justice to others, students will not lie, cheat or steal others’ ideas, nor will they tolerate egregious behavior in others. Students will avoid deception and collusion whenever they engage in academic activities offered under the auspices of NSU. As scholars, students will scrupulously avoid plagiarism, learning to select high-quality research sources and to cite them correctly.

Any infraction against the Honor Code will set into motion the academic dishonesty procedures. For more information, visit the Dean of Students’ website.

COMPLAINTS
The Dean of Students Office holds primary responsibility for the ongoing development and improvement of the quality of student life including student advocacy. Customer Care/Student Advocacy assists students and parents who may not understand what offices to contact or experience a concern that needs resolution. STUDENT RIGHT-TO-KNOW ACT
Disclosure information pertaining to this act is available at www.nsu.edu/enrollment-management/student-right-to-know.
GENERAL PROCEDURES

GENERAL EXPECTATIONS
All students, by accepting admission to Norfolk State University, agree to abide by all regulations and policies published in the Student Handbook, the University Catalog, University bulletins and other University publications, as well as federal, state and local laws. In addition, students are expected to exercise appropriate behavior and applied reason during their tenure at the University.

Students are expected to respect the rights and welfare of all members of the University community, visitors and guests. The University recognizes that a thoughtful and reasonable search for truth can be conducted only in an atmosphere that is free of intimidation and coercion. As such, violence, disruption of the learning process and intimidation are unacceptable to the University community. Students are expected to examine critically, analyze and otherwise evaluate the University, its programs, policies and procedures using processes that appeal to reason and do not compromise the academic mission, climate or integrity of the University. Students are expected to assume full responsibility for and will be held liable for their individual actions.

GENERAL DECORUM
Students are encouraged and expected to conduct themselves in an acceptable and professional manner that reflects personal pride, dignity and respect. Care should be taken to demonstrate appropriate grooming habits and behavior that will reflect positively on the individual and the institution.

Services and guidance in areas of student adjustment are afforded to assist students in developing priorities and sound basis for decision-making. Certain latitudes of operation are provided to help students assume and demonstrate adult responsibility.

UNIVERSITY ASSEMBLY
Programs addressing issues that are University-wide in scope or have campus-wide appeal are convened in University assemblies. Because these programs are administered to communicate information of interest to the University community, students are urged to attend and participate. Some programs may be compulsory in attendance.

STUDENT CONDUCT
The Dean of Students Office is responsible for the overall administration of student conduct. Students must follow all published policies and procedures. Students are responsible for respecting and complying with all laws and rights of good citizenship. For more information about the Code of Student Conduct, visit the following link https://www.nsu.edu/dean-of-students/student-conduct.

CLASS ATTENDANCE
The University expects students to attend all classes. The student assumes full responsibility for work missed due to an absence. Make-up work may be permitted at the discretion of the instructor.

While absences are discouraged, the University recognizes that, on occasion, students may have legitimate reasons for being absent. Thus, a student will be permitted one unexcused absence per semester hour credit or the number of times a given class meets per week. Once a student exceeds the number of allowed unexcused absences, an instructor may require an official University excuse. Not more than twenty percent (20%) of class meetings (excused and/or unexcused) may be missed by a student during a given semester. At the discretion of the instructor, a student whose absences exceed 20% of scheduled class meetings for the semester may receive a grade of “F” for the course.

Students have the responsibility to confer with instructors regarding all absences or intended absences. If sudden departure from the campus (for an emergency or extraordinary reason) prevents a student from communicating with each of his or her instructors, the student is expected to notify the Dean of Students Office within 48 hours.

Class excuses are issued for legitimate reasons as deemed appropriate by the Dean of Students Office. Such incidents may include but are not limited to medical reasons, funerals for immediate family members, or official University business/activity. Official written documentation is required. Notes from relatives, friends, guardians, etc. are not accepted as “official” documentation for absences. The Dean of Students Office will determine if an absence is legitimate and if an excuse will be issued. Unless there are extenuating circumstances, documentation must be provided to the Dean of Students Office upon return and by the last day of classes. All missed coursework must be completed within the timeframe given by the instructor and/or by the last day of classes.

Students who become ill are encouraged to report to the Spartan Health Center, located in Spartan Station, for “minor” medical treatment. A current NSU ID Card must be presented prior to treatment. Written verification of illness issued by the Spartan Health Center should be delivered to the Dean of Students Office and an official University excuse should be obtained.

Students residing in on-campus housing facilities are governed by the same policies and procedures as nonresident students in regards to class attendance and class excuses are concerned.

SUMMER SCHOOL CLASS ATTENDANCE
Students attending summer school classes are expected to attend all scheduled class sessions. Those students who find it necessary to be absent should notify their instructors as soon as possible to make arrangements for making up any class work/tests missed during the absence. The instructor reserves the right to require written documentation via the Dean of Students Office for any classes missed.

ABSENCE FROM FINAL EXAMINATIONS
If a student misses a final examination because of an emergency, he/she should notify the instructor within 48 hours after the examination was scheduled. Excuses for missing a final exam are issued by the Dean of Students Office only with the consent of the instructor. Such excuses are given only in extreme emergencies and official, written documentation must be presented before an excuse is issued.
Failure to follow the procedure outlined for absence from final examinations will result in a grade of “F” for the examination, and a final grade will be computed and given for the course.

WITHDRAWAL
Any student who wishes to withdraw from the University must submit an application for withdrawal, which may be obtained from the academic department, advisor, or the Office of the Registrar. Non-attendance or notification sent to instructors does not constitute an official withdrawal.

It is the student’s responsibility to follow and complete all procedures to drop classes and/or withdraw from the University. If the student is ill or otherwise incapacitated and cannot complete the withdrawal (or drop) process, the student must contact, or have someone contact the Dean of Students Office immediately.

Withdrawal Refund Policy
Tuition and fee charges are adjusted on a pro-rata basis for students who withdraw. Withdrawal from the University may result in a reduction or cancellation or financial aid awards. Students receiving financial aid should contact the Office of Financial Aid for complete information about their individual situation. Military students should refer to BOV Policy #07 (2014) Military Deployment and Administrative Policy #31-501 (2014) Military Tuition Relief Refund and Reinstatement.

A student who fails to adhere to the published deadlines for withdrawing from (dropping) classes or withdrawing from the University will be charged the appropriate tuition and will receive a failing grade (F).

OFF-CAMPUS TRIPS
When a class is taken off campus, signatures of approval should be obtained from the department head and school dean prior to the trip. Written requests must include the destination, date and time of departure/return, mode of transportation, itinerary, a list of student travelers’ names, and the names of chaperones. A copy of approved requests should be forwarded to the Office of the Provost and the Dean of Students Office. Students should visit the Dean of Students Office to obtain official class excuses.

BULLETIN BOARDS
Bulletin boards are placed in areas of greatest student concentration. Students should read them daily to keep abreast of University events/information. Prior to posting signs, notices, posters, etc. on any open bulletin board, they must be approved by the Office of Student Activities and Leadership. Unapproved posted items are subject to immediate removal.

Students are also encouraged to download the LiveSafe app. LiveSafe is designed to improve communication between members of the University community and campus public safety. It also allows for faster emergency response during distressed situations. By providing access to the latest safety information, our goal is to help build a safe campus together. - Receive real-time safety alerts from campus public safety to your phone

To download LiveSafe, follow the directions below:

1. Open Google Play or the Apple App Store on your phone. Search for "LiveSafe" and download the option with the blue shield.

The possession, carrying, use and brandishing of a potentially harmful object(s) in a situation where there is no reasonable use for it and/or when such object(s) is used to intimidate, cause death or serious bodily injury, or to threaten another with death or serious bodily injury will be considered a violation of this policy.

REPORTING CRIMINAL ACTIVITY AND OTHER EMERGENCIES
It is Norfolk State University Campus Police’s mission to protect the rights, the safety and the welfare of the students, faculty, staff and members of the community. Every person on campus has the right to be free from threats or acts of violence. Everyone is expected, as well as required, to comply with all local, state and federal laws.

Any person living, studying, working and/or visiting the University campus who is victimized or has knowledge of a criminal action/offense or other emergency should immediately contact Campus Police or any “Campus Security Authority” (defined as a University official who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities). Students, faculty, staff and visitors are also encouraged to report all suspicious persons or activities witnessed on campus and in the surrounding communities.

The anonymous phone line for reporting incidents is (757) 823-2148. Police officers and police sergeants are in constant communication with the University’s telecommunications center, and are on duty 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Officers are dispatched immediately after a call is received. “Blue light” emergency call boxes are located throughout the campus. This security measure is provided to ensure safety. Simply pushing the large black button activates the call box and connects the individual to the campus police dispatcher. The dispatcher will then identify the activated call box by number and ask for the nature of the emergency (e.g., “call box number 3, what is your emergency?”). Persons should try to remain calm and speak loudly and clearly while giving the location and nature of the emergency.

All calls, complaints and serious incidents will be investigated by Campus Police. Violations of the law can result in referrals to the Dean of Students Office and/or charges by Norfolk State University’s Campus Police and/or local police.

STUDENT PATHWAYS AND ACADEMIC FORMATION
A unit of the Office of Academic Engagement, Student Pathways and Academic Formation is responsible for Spartan Seminars, Meta-Major Learning Communities, and Spartan Pathways (Career Pathways Initiative). The unit works with faculty and staff University-wide to support student “Performance, Persistence and Preparation” in the following ways:
• Foster an academic environment wherein students become acutely-aware and distinctively prepared as emerging scholars and professionals;
• Offer curricular and co-curricular initiatives for students in all four years of their college experience, emphasizing academic/intellectual and career identity formation;
• Play a key role in preparing NSU graduates to enter rewarding careers in their chosen field(s) and/or to pursue graduate school with a clear purpose after degree completion;
• Track and assess the placement and performance of graduates after degree completion.

SPARTAN SEMINARS/ META-MAJOR LEARNING COMMUNITIES
To support its academic mission, Norfolk State University has created a series of three (3), one (1) credit courses called Spartan Seminars (SEM 101, 102, and 201). Meta-major learning communities are integrated into the Spartan Seminar series. Students often ask the question, “How do I get there from here?” Sometimes students ask this question because they need to locate a campus resource or office. Other times, the question is more profound. For example: “How will I reach my future educational or career destination?” The Spartan Seminar Series supports students in navigating the academic journey in alignment with self-defined goals. Students in SEM 101 and 102 study and apply foundational academic skills, engage in structured identity (self-concept) exploration, and purposefully learn about key University resources, programs of study, and potential career options. Students in SEM 201 engage in structured activities to support their transition from the expectations of lower-division to upper-division academics, while developing a more defined personal, academic and career identity (self-concept).

The six meta-major learning communities are:

1. Business & Entrepreneurship
2. Arts, Humanities, & Media
3. Education, Public & Human Services, and Behavioral Sciences
4. Health Sciences
5. STEM
6. Interdisciplinary & Undecided Majors

SPARTAN PATHWAYS (CAREER PATHWAYS INITIATIVE)
Spartan Pathways is Norfolk State University’s career pathways initiative. The distinctive aspect of Spartan Pathways is its location within the Division of Academic Affairs and its intentional focus on the academic enterprise. Faculty lead the Spartan Pathways initiative with a commitment to fundamentally and routinely examine, enhance, and even change the curriculum to reflect workforce requirements. They do this with lower division students by engaging in the work of meta-major learning communities to assist students in exploring and developing a career identity. Faculty members continue working with upper division students to clarify and actualize their career identity through intentional curricular and co-curricular engagement via major courses, internships, research partnerships, and other experiences. Moreover, faculty collaborate with students, industry partners, and other University stakeholders on original projects designed to improve how the curriculum and general classroom experience prepare students for reaching their post-graduation self-defined goals. Spartan Pathways aims to deliver a solid return on tuition dollar investment by connecting students to career success.

ACADEMIC STUDENT CONCERNS

Norfolk State University (NSU) is committed to fostering intellectual inquiry in a climate of academic freedom and integrity. NSU’s faculty, staff, and students alike are expected to uphold these principles and exhibit tolerance and respect for others.

The awarding of grades and other academic evaluation rests with the faculty. However, when a student believes that a faculty member has failed to meet his or her obligations in an instructional setting, the student has the right to have his or her concern addressed expeditiously and thoroughly. This could include an appeal of a grade, accusation of academic dishonesty, etc. In the event of an academic issue/concern, students should express their concern in the following order: (1st) instructor, (2nd) department chairperson, (3rd) college or school dean, and (4th) the Office of the Provost.

1. The student should express the concerns respectfully to the professor. If that does not bring resolution;
2. The student and instructor (preferably together) should confer with the chairperson of the department offering the course. If that does not yield resolution;
3. The student should confer with the dean of the college or school in which the department of the referenced class is housed. If that does not yield resolution;
4. The student may initiate a formal written appeal through the Office of the Provost for review and investigation.

In cases involving academic dishonesty, if the student either accepts responsibility or is found responsible, the faculty member should inform the Office of the Provost of the incident. The Office of the Provost will notify the Dean of Students’ office, which will place the student on disciplinary probation.

Cases elevating to the Office of the Provost may be heard by the Academic Grievance Committee. The Academic Grievance Committee will make a recommendation to the Provost for final decision.

CONCERNS ABOUT GRADES OR OTHER ASSESSMENTS

If a student has a concern relating to a particular grade or other assessment of his or her academic work, the student first should speak with the instructor of the class to understand how the grade or other evaluation was derived and to address the student’s specific concern. If the student does not feel comfortable speaking with the class instructor about the matter, he or she should bring the issue to the attention of the department chair in order to seek advice on how best to address the issue.

If the student believes that the issue has not been adequately addressed, he/she should bring the issue to the attention of the dean of the college or school. The dean will work with the student and the faculty to bring the matter to resolution. If the student does not feel that the dean’s findings were accurate, he/she has the right to appeal the decision to the Office of the Provost. Once a formal appeal has been filed in the Office of the Provost, it may be heard by the Academic Grievance Committee, which makes a recommendation to the Provost. The decision from the Office of the Provost is final.

CONCERNS INVOLVING A FACULTY MEMBER

Listed below are some of the areas which might be included as areas of concern:

1. Failure to show appropriate respect in an instructional setting for the rights of others to hold opinions differing from their own;
2. Misuse of faculty authority to promote a political, social, or personal cause within an instructional setting;
3. Conduct in the classroom or another instructional setting that adversely affects the learning environment.

If a student believes that a faculty member has acted in an unprofessional manner, he or she should first speak with the chairperson from the faculty member’s department to review the claim, establish the substance of the concern, and come to a decision about how best to address the concerns raised by the student. If appropriate, the department chairperson, working with relevant faculty, will investigate the matter fully and attempt to resolve the matter. If the matter remains unresolved to the student’s satisfaction, the student may contact the college or school dean in which the department is housed.

If at any time a student believes the process is not working in a constructive or timely fashion, the student should always follow the academic protocol (1) faculty, (2) department chairperson, (3) college or school dean, and (4) the Office of the Provost.

If the alleged misconduct involves discrimination or harassment by a faculty or staff member, the concern should be filed with the Title IX Coordinator. The use of the terms “discrimination” and “harassment” under these policies and procedures includes discrimination, discriminatory harassment, gender-based harassment, sexual harassment, and sexual assault.

Registering for Accommodations
Students planning to apply for admission to the University are encouraged to contact the Accessibility Services Office as soon as possible to determine if the University can accommodate their particular disability. Once accepted, students who wish to receive assistance must contact the office at least forty-five (45) days before classes begin; otherwise, the office cannot ensure that accommodations can be made in a timely manner.

The Accessibility Services Office serves persons eligible for assistance under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as well as persons with temporary disabilities acquired as a result of illness or injury. Written documentation from a qualified professional is required before accommodations are implemented.

Typically, the Norfolk State University campus is accessible and easy to navigate. The terrain is flat, and accumulations of snow and ice are rare in Eastern Virginia.

Transportation
Students requiring special transportation arrangements on our campus and on neighboring campuses, are accommodated daily by regularly scheduled shuttle bus service.

Parking
For students with their own vehicles, accessible parking is available near residence halls, most classroom buildings, and administrative offices. Special parking permits for students with permanent and temporary impairments can be obtained from the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV).

Admission
Admission to Norfolk State University will be based solely on the entrance requirements as described in the college catalog.

Disclosure of a disability during the admissions process is not required; however, it is encouraged for the purpose of preparation. Neither the nature nor the severity of an individual’s disability is used as criteria for admission.

Assistive Technology Laboratory (AT LAB)
At Norfolk State University, we are continuously updating materials and equipment and collaborating with experts across the country in various fields of technology. Realizing assistive technology (AT) is a process as much as a product, it is imperative that we provide high-quality technical assistance for our students during their educational experience. Assistive technology is any device or process to assist a student with a disability in his or her efforts to accomplish a task that would otherwise be difficult or impossible without the assistive technology.

Students currently enrolled with a documented disability in our program will receive access to the AT Lab. They will be able to use the specialized hardware and software that level the playing field in their endeavor to excel. Each student qualifies for an assistive technology evaluation. The assistive technology evaluation is the process of determining which device best facilitates the student’s efforts to achieve.

Apply for Housing
Norfolk State University has limited housing for students desiring to live on campus. Students desiring to live on campus must submit a housing application, pay a non-refundable housing deposit and submit a housing contract. Students are strongly encouraged to apply early for housing. The housing application process for on-campus housing is available online through Housing & Residence Life’s website.

Roommate Request
Requests for roommates will be honored, to the extent possible, provided the request is mutual, deadlines for fees are met and each person making the request meets all requirements for living in the desired residence hall. Students requesting to room together should submit their housing applications and payments simultaneously.

Occupancy of Rooms
Students are required to occupy their rooms on or before the first day of classes or they will forfeit their room reservation.

Check-In
Prior to checking into the residence hall, each student should have completed all financial arrangements. The University reserves the right to deny access to any student who owes an outstanding balance. Once a student has obtained his/her room key, he/she should inspect the room and report all discrepancies on the “Room Condition Card.” All discrepancies in the room must be noted and reported to the residence hall staff prior to occupancy to avoid any unwarranted charges. Only registered students matriculating at the University are permitted to live on campus. Students who fail to make satisfactory payment arrangements and subsequently have their classes cancelled must vacate their assigned room within 24 hours.
Housing during Breaks
All residence halls (except Spartan Suites) will be officially closed during the Thanksgiving, winter, spring and summer breaks. Continuing residents and graduates will receive updated information with specific dates and times when they must vacate their respective residence hall.

Withdrawal Procedures
Students desiring to withdraw from on-campus housing are required to clean their room, remove all of their personal possessions, turn in their room key, submit the Contract Cancellation Form to their residence hall director and sign their Blue Card. Residents are responsible for removing all personal possessions and cleaning their rooms, which must be verified by the residence hall director. The student is responsible for completing all paperwork to complete the withdrawal process.

A $100 charge will be applied to the student’s account if, upon check-out, the room/suite is not cleaned. A $20 charge will be applied for each key not returned. Both offenses are subject to possible sanctions that could prohibit future residency in the residence halls. In addition, students withdrawing from the residence halls will incur a $50 charge for improper check-out if they fail to complete any part of the withdrawal process. Students should contact their respective graduate assistant or residence hall director if they have any questions.

Check-Out Procedures
Prior to student check-in and upon check-out, each residence hall will have staff assigned to check the condition of the room/suite. To properly check out, students should clean their side of the room, turn in their room key and sign their Blue Card. Damages and other discrepancies will be noted on the back of the resident’s Blue Card. Normal wear is not penalized. All residents assigned to a room/suite are responsible for cleaning his/her side of the room. Rooms and/or suites must be clean and free of all trash. Students housed in the suites must ensure that the bathrooms are clean. Charges will be assessed for broken, damaged, misplaced or out-of-area furniture. Failure to follow correct check-out procedures will result in a fine and possible sanctions that may prohibit future residency in the residence halls. Housing & Residence Life reserves the right to charge all occupants of a room if damages occur or personal items remain and the violator cannot be identified.

Off-Campus Housing
The University has an off-campus housing referral listing to aid students in finding privately-owned accommodations. Information is available about rooms, houses and apartments that are available to students on the Housing & Residence Life website. Contracts or agreements are private matters solely between the student and the landlord. Students are urged to make living arrangements well in advance of the beginning of the semester. NSU is not affiliated with any rental listing, off-campus housing party or landlord, and is not a party to any landlord-student contractual agreements. For more information on off-campus housing locations, please visit Housing & Residence Life’s website.

Violation of Residence Hall Rules and Regulations
It is recognized that living in groups requires a certain level of tolerance and conformity by all concerned. Rules controlling conduct within housing owned or controlled by the University are promulgated by Housing & Residence Life to enhance the safety and comfort of everyone living in the residence halls. These rules, along with procedures for their enforcement and applicable sanctions, are published in the Community Standards & Expectations Guide for Residential Living. Norfolk State University’s Code of Student Conduct and disciplinary procedures apply to all students, including those who live in the residence halls. Alleged violations of the Code of Student Conduct by residence hall students will be forwarded to the Dean of Students Office for disciplinary action.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Student organizations at NSU are governed by the Office of Student Activities and Leadership (OSAL). Student organizations and groups may be established within the University for any legal purpose, provided these groups do not discriminate with regard to race, creed, color, religion or national origin. Affiliation with an extramural organization shall not, in itself, disqualify the institutional branch or chapter from institutional privileges. A list of officially recognized student organizations is located at the end of this section.

Becoming an Official Organization
A group shall become an official campus organization when formally recognized by the Student Government Association (SGA) and the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs. Groups seeking such status must proceed as follows:

1. Prepare and submit a New Student Organization Application, two (2) copies of the group’s constitution stating its purpose and objectives, and the names, student I.D. numbers, and contact information of proposed officers to the OSAL for review. The New Student Organization Committee will review all submitted applications and vote to determine if they will be a recognized student organization.
2. If the New Student Organization Committee approves the organization, the application, constitution, supporting materials, and its recommendations are forwarded to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs for approval.
3. Organizations will receive a letter from the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management regarding their university status.
4. If the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management approves the organization for official recognition, the organization must then register with the OSAL.
5. Include the names and ID numbers a minimum of 10 perspective members currently enrolled at the university.

Student organizations that have been approved by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs and wish to use the University’s name, facilities or property to solicit thereon, must submit a completed Student Organization Registration Form prepared by the organization’s advisor within the first three weeks of the fall and spring semesters. The registration form is available on the OSAL website, www.nsu.edu/student-affairs/student-activities. Registration is effective from the date of receipt and approval by the OSAL until the end of the academic semester.

Student organizations must maintain a minimum of ten (10) members to be recognized and considered active. The OSAL may make exceptions upon receipt of a written request from the organization and its advisor.

All organizations that conduct membership intake must belong to either the National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) or the Council of Independent Organizations.
Appeal Process
Within thirty (30) days of receipt of notice that the OSAL has refused or canceled the registration of an organization, the officers or proponents of such organization shall be given the right of appeal, in writing, to the University Executive Council. The Student Organization Hearing Committee may either grant or reinstate the registration, or uphold the decision of the OSA.

Membership shall also include local undergraduate and alumni councils chartered by the NPHC. (www.nphc.org)

   - Professional Fraternity Association (PFA)

• The organization must submit a completed extension packet to the CIO Advisor. Extension Packets may be obtained by visiting the Office of Student Activities and Leadership.

7. The fulfillment of the aforementioned requirements does not guarantee organization recognition or membership in the CIO.

8. Should the interest group fail to adhere to these guidelines prior to initiation, the organization will not be allowed to apply for recognition until all of the initiated members have graduated or permanently withdrawn (minimum of one (1) academic year* or enrolled in another university) from Norfolk State University.

9. If an organization applying for recognition fulfills all of the above requirements, the Council will select a maximum of three (3) organizations to make a presentation for consideration. • The interested organization becomes a member of the Council of Independent Organizations if a two-thirds (2/3) vote is received and their application for recognition is approved.
• Organizations cannot begin a membership intake process until after receiving a two-thirds vote and recognition from OSAL.

Membership
Membership in student organizations shall be limited to currently enrolled NSU students, faculty and staff of the University, except honor, leadership or recognition societies which may include other persons as provided for in their national constitutions, and in keeping with the educational objectives of the University. Membership in student organizations shall be open to any student who is willing to subscribe to the stated aims and meet the stated objectives of the organization and the University.

Sales and Solicitations (Non-University Affiliated Organizations)
Organizations or individuals that are not officially recognized by the University desiring to distribute and/or post flyers, materials or other items, solicit materials or funds, or engage in the sale and/or promotion of services or products on property owned and operated by Norfolk State University, must receive written permission from the Director of Auxiliary Services.
The University reserves the right to deny access to any person(s) whose presence may jeopardize the safety and well-being of the University community.

The University has an extensive program involving speakers and performers who are invited to the campus by various University organizations. Sponsorship of guest speakers and performers does not necessarily imply approval or endorsement of views expressed either by the sponsoring group or University.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS
Student publications are valuable aids in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion on campus. Not only do they bring student interests and concerns to the attention of the campus community, they also serve as vital means of communication for the faculty and administration. Although student publications are not an official voice of the University, they have a responsibility to represent the University in an objective manner.

The University has two major student publications: the Spartan Echo/Spartan Echo Online and the Spartan Reflections Yearbook. The Spartan Echo/Spartan Echo Online is the student newspaper, which is operated by students under the supervision of a faculty advisor who is a member of the Journalism Department staff. Though mainly devoted to news of campus life, the Spartan Echo/Spartan Echo Online also features articles of national importance and interest to the campus community. The paper, under the leadership of a student editor, is published bi-weekly during the academic year.

A staff comprised primarily of students assembles the Spartan Reflections Yearbook. It features a pictorial review of campus events that occur throughout the academic year, as well as photos of faculty, staff and students--particularly members of the graduating senior class.
