

IMPORTANT COMMENT REGARDING NSU’s TITLE IX POLICY:

Two versions of the NSU Title IX Policy appear below – a 2017 version and a 2021 version.

The 2017 version of BOV Policy #5 (including Policy #5, as well as sub-policies #5.01, #5.02, #5.03, and the Title IX Handbook) has been repealed, but still applies in some situations. The substantive provisions of the policy (that is, the type and definition of conduct prohibited) apply to all incidents occurring on or before March 19, 2021. The procedural provisions of the policy (that is, the process followed after a complaint is filed) apply where complaints are filed on or before March 19, 2021.

The 2021 version of BOV Policy #5 also applies in some, but not all situations. The substantive provisions of the policy (for example, the type and definition of prohibited conduct) apply to all incidents occurring after March 19, 2021. The procedural provisions of the policy (that is, the process followed after a complaint is filed) apply to incidents where complaints were filed after March 19, 2021.
